WASHINGTON TOOK $23,050,550 BONDS

Number of Second Liberty Loan Subscribers in Capital 84,388.

The total sum subscribed by Washington to the second liberty loan, as reported to the federal reserve bank at Richmond today, was $23,050,550.

The number of subscribers in Washington was 84,388.

The National Capital exceeded its maximum allotment of the second liberty loan by more than $3,000,000. It passed its record subscription to the first liberty loan, $19,261,400, when it led the entire country, by $3,739,150.

The number of subscribers to the first loan was 57,173, and the increase in the number of subscribers to the second loan was 27,209, a remarkable showing upon which the liberty loan committee was heartily congratulated today.

Banks Took Six Millions. Of the $23,050,550 subscribed to the second loan $16,743,400 was taken by individual subscribers and $6,308,150 by Washington banks for their own holdings.

Washington's subscription to the two loans amounts to $42,311,950.

The local liberty loan committee, which conducted the successful campaign for the second loan, is the same as that which put across the first successful loan. John F. Cooke, chairman; Eugene E. Thompson, secretary; Corcoran, Thon, B. F. Saul and Eugene E. Allen.

Not until last night did the banks complete the tabulation of the subscriptions and report them over to the liberty loan committee, so heavy was the subscription in the final drive on Saturday.

Interior Department Figures. The liberty loan campaign, waged for three weeks in the Interior Department, in which every member was given an opportunity to subscribe, came to a formal close with a total of $1,766,100 subscribed. Of this amount the 4,500 employees in Washington subscribed $788,600, which is greater by $100,000 than the entire subscription to the first liberty loan.

In amount of money, the Indian office comes first with a total of $231,300, of which $69,000 was subscribed by the Washington office. The second bureau was mines with a total of $131,650, with $149,500 subscribed by the Washington office. The land office was third with a total of $196,200, of which $46,200 came from the Washington employees.

The other bureaus in the order of their amount were as follows: Geological survey, Washington, $132,500; Field, $38,350; reclamation service, Washington, $29,250; field, $145,000; Secretary's office, Washington, $49,950; field, $123,650; pension bureau, Washington, $128,700; field, $14,650; patent office, Washington, $127,700; national park, Washington, $111,500; field, $15,000; education bureau, Washington, $16,100; field, $3,200; Howard University, Washington, $1,800; Freedmen's Hospital, $4,900; St. Elizabeth Hospital, $33,600.

TO WEAR U. S. UNIFORM. French and English Soldiers Instructing at Fort Myer.

French and English soldiers, who have been in the United States instructing our soldiers in modern trench warfare, are to be clothed in khaki, but will be allowed to wear their own caps, according to an announcement at Fort Myer.

There are now seventy-three Frenchmen and more than one hundred Englishmen at Fort Myer. They are to be clothed in the United States uniform for their instruction work, as the hard work indulged in during the training here, it was stated, would ruin their clothing.

SHRAPNEL Sidelights on the War

—BY— OLIVER OWEN KUHN.

The Prince of Wales has gained a reputation for saying what he thinks at British general headquarters. He has detected defects in several army plans which have come to his notice.

Practically all famous British regiments have mottoes seeking to convey regimental ideals.

American and British soldiers are prevented from early conversing with the French because of their self-consciousness, says report.

It is a common sight near the base towns in France to see soldiers going to market with baskets over their arms.

A British society woman, whose knowledge of America evidently had been gained from Fred Hart's and Jack London's stories of camp life, turned to an American officer and asked:

"Have you ever seen a lynching?" "The last lynching I saw was while dining with some friends in New York. The waiter brought us unsavory food and we strung him up."

"Do you mean to tell me you took part in this terrible affair?" asked the gullible one.

"No, indeed, I did not," answered the American. "I was down in the kitchen shooting the cook."

Old Welsh writers and preachers long have been a source of inspiration to Premier Lloyd George of England.

ITALY TO BE ALLOWED ALL NEEDED SUPPLIES

American Export Regulations Waived in Face of Critical Emergency.

All export restrictions will be waived by the American government in forwarding supplies to Italy to aid in meeting the Austro-German invasion.

The Italian government, it was made known, will be permitted to take the kind of materials it needs most to the limit of its tonnage capacity regardless of prospective shortages here.

The military and political situations in Italy and the aid America will render were gone over at a conference yesterday afternoon between Secretary Lansing and Count di Celleri, the Italian ambassador. Italy's crying need for ships was given especial consideration.

100,000 Tons Promised. Approximately 100,000 tons of shipping has been promised Italy by the shipping board. Four vessels already have been turned over and the others will be delivered as fast as they are available.

The shortage of ships is so serious, however, that the shipping board has to pick them up as it can find them and the whole amount of tonnage promised may not be available under thirty days.

Italy's greatest need is coal, and, next, steel for her munition factories. She has heavy drawing on this country for about 100,000 tons of coal a month, but now that English coal is harder to obtain her requirements from the United States will approach 400,000 tons monthly. The country starts the winter, according to Italian officials, fully two millions tons of coal short.

May Get Spanish Ships. The shipping the United States is able to release will be totally inadequate to meet the demand for coal and to carry food and munitions. It is likely, it was said today, however, that the Italians will make a trade with Spain for a large amount of Spanish tonnage to supplement the American ships. At the same time the Italians will put into transatlantic service as many of their own ships as possible.

Italy's food situation, it was said today, is not as bad as it has been pictured. The bread ration is larger now than in either France or England. If, however, the Italians wish to transport food in preference to coal and munitions, they will be given export licenses to ship as much as they wish.

PLAN TO PROVIDE HOUSING FOR MEN ON WAR WORK Special Committee of the Council of National Defense Makes Recommendations to President.

Plans for providing adequate facilities to house thousands of workmen employed on government war contracts in congested labor centers have been presented to President Wilson by a special committee of the Council of National Defense, headed by President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor.

The committee's recommendations followed a survey and investigation of the housing problem in many cities. It will not be made public pending approval of the report by the President.

The committee discussed the proposed plans at length with Mr. Wilson, who has taken a lively personal interest in the movement for bettering housing conditions of government workers.

The report has the approval of the advisory committee of the Council of National Defense. It is said to recommend direct expenditures by the government with emergency appropriations to give quick relief to several badly congested sections.

It is understood that it is proposed to give particular attention to several of the shipbuilding towns, where the enormous increase in workers has made the housing problem most acute.
